

SEA FIGHTERS TO STEAM IN TO-DAY

Seventeen Will Pass Up the Harbor Between 9 and 10 O'clock.

"NAVY WEEK" UNDER WAY

Seventeen gray, grim ships of war will steam out of the dawn into Ambrose channel this morning, and at 9 o'clock this battleship squadron of the Atlantic fleet will glide up the Hudson River, each vessel to its allotted anchorage. Then will begin the ten days of holiday making, of which the climax will be reached in the President's review a week from Monday.

Admiral Fletcher, commanding the fleet, knows that 8 in the morning is too early an hour for formidable super-dreadnaughts, dreadnaughts, and dreadnaughts to proceed to their assigned positions in the Hudson, because few folk would be about the city to witness their arrival. Accordingly the squadron will wait outside in the harbor until New Yorkers have had their eggs and coffee.

Then—it will be between 9 and 10 o'clock—the warships will take their smooth way over the waters of the Hudson, the Wyoming stopping opposite Eighty-second street, and the Louisiana going as far as 155th street, to be the northern outpost of the squadron.

Entry Will Be Without Salutes.

There will be no salutes fired as the fleet arrives. The salutes will be saved for that minute on the afternoon of Monday, May 17, when President Wilson boards the Mayflower to review the fleet at anchor. And there will be no salutes fired when acting Mayor George McAneny calls on Commander-in-Chief Fletcher at 11 o'clock this morning and says a welcome to him.

Mr. McAneny will be accompanied on this visit by members of the Mayor's Committee for the Entertainment of the Atlantic Fleet, a committee that has been working as hard as its title is long. They will go aboard Admiral Fletcher's flagship, the Wyoming, from the boat landing at West Seventy-ninth street, and acting Mayor McAneny will find that a full marine guard and a band makes up in a way for the absence of salutes.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Admiral Fletcher and his aids will land at Twenty-fourth street to come to the City Hall to return Mr. McAneny's call. The Commander in Chief will be escorted to this exchange of amenities by two troops of mounted police.

By that time the elastic period of time known as "navy week" will have begun its ten days—ten days of recreation for the officers and enlisted men who have earned it by strenuous target practice and maneuvers in Southern waters.

Sailors All Over Town.

There will be blue-jackets swinging down Broadway, there will be blue-jackets parading Fifth avenue, and there will be hundreds of persons promenading Riverside Drive to see the fleet, especially to-night, when the ships will be ablaze with lights.

There will be 3,000 enlisted men at the baseball game between Kansas City and Brooklyn at Washington Park, Brooklyn, this afternoon, and President R. B. Ward of the Brooklyn club of the Federal League has offered that many free tickets to the sailors four days next week, while the American League will give 10,000 seats at the Polo grounds for Monday's game.

There will be blue-jackets and color in the streets of the city and the hotels will be gay with decorations. Naval headquarters will be established at the Astor, the Belmont, Knickerbocker, Manhattan, Plaza, Ritz-Carlton, St. Regis, Waldorf, Vanderbilt, Woodward and Baltimore.

A forerunner of what is to come was observed along Riverside yesterday afternoon. On the pier at the foot of West 143rd street hundreds of men, women and children were gathered along to look at the fifteen vessels that are to pass up the river. It should be mentioned that there were many young women in the crowd and a few sailors who already had embraced shore leave and were on their way to the ships.

The crowds of sailors and the sailors spent most of their time gazing at the nine submarines there, the D-1, D-2, D-3, E-1, E-2, K-1, K-2, K-3, K-4, K-5, K-6, K-7, K-8, K-9, K-10, K-11, K-12, K-13,
